Music to your ears

Opera evening at the Grand Théâtre de Genève! Jaques Offenbach's "Les contes d'Hoffman". Three fables... three women in one: A man in love with a doll, a young girl dying to sing and a courtisane stealing the reflection of her lovers. The work of a lifetime that ensured Offenbach's triumph. Tragically he did not live to see his opera performed, since he died on 5 October, 1880, just over four months before its premiere.

After the opera, you'll be driven back to the hotel where you can enjoy a specially-orchestrated late-night supper matched with a selection of the finest local wines
