FACT SHEET

Mandarin Oriental's acclaimed collection of luxury hotels and resorts are perfectly located in the world's most prestigious locations. Steeped in the traditional values of our oriental heritage, each hotel delights the guest with inspired, individual style, exquisite, sophisticated facilities and personal, passionate service.

Mandarin Oriental, San Francisco redefines luxury as the City's most striking and sophisticated hotel. Contemporary in design, the guest rooms occupy the top eleven floors of the third tallest building in the City. Our rooms in the clouds afford spectacular views of the City, the Bay and many landmarks like the Golden Gate Bridge and Alcatraz.

FACT SHEET

LOCATION

Centrally located, Mandarin Oriental, San Francisco is ideal for business or pleasure. It's a fun cable car ride to Nob Hill or Fisherman's Wharf and just a short walk from the hotel to the Farmer's Market, Chinatown, shopping and theaters. The City's financial and business districts are adjacent, making Mandarin Oriental perhaps the most cosmopolitan hotel in San Francisco.

GUEST ROOMS

Glass enclosed sky bridges connect the twin towers on the guest room floors. Guests can choose from a wide range of room categories with multiple room layouts. The Bridge to Bridge category offers panoramic 180 degree views of the north bay including both the Golden Gate and Bay Bridge; the Mandarin Rooms are renowned for their windowed bath, completely private but overlooking the splendors of the city.

All rooms offer unobstructed views (and binoculars, too) with designer-quality furnishings and luxury appointments. Offering twice daily maid service, three multiline telephones with voice mail, high-speed Internet access, CD player, windows that open, a choice of bathrobes and luxurious bath amenities, guest rooms at Mandarin Oriental, San Francisco are comfortable, accommodating and spectacular.

RESTAURANT AND LOUNGE

Silks

American cuisine with Pacific Rim influences. It's a phrase that doesn't begin to describe the exciting menus of Silks restaurant. The culinary team incorporates world travels and spirited creativity to present dishes that are universal yet original. The blending of fresh California ingredients with techniques and flavors of the East is perfect for Silks, whose name was inspired by the mélange of influences found on the Old Silk Road. The decor is exotic and rich.

Banquettes and discreetly spaced tables offer privacy, while luxurious fabrics and wall coverings soothe the senses. Service is personable but unobtrusive, attentive and informed. The wine list offers an impressive selection from the world's great regions, with special emphasis on the spectacular wines of the Napa Valley.

The Mandarin Lounge

In the tradition of great hotels, the Mandarin Lounge is the social center of the hotel. The bustle of city streets gives way to an intimate and comfortable hideaway. Perfect for people watching, informal meetings or a discreet tête-à-tête, the sounds of jazz piano complement luxurious decor and thoughtful service for afternoon tea, cocktails, and a creative menu of appetizers, small plates and desserts.
